

TEENemprende

TEENemprende is an educational programme for the promotion of entrepreneurship addressed to discover and improve the enterprising skills of students from ESO and initial VET through the development of a transforming project for their environment.

Why should I, as a coach, master this method?

It is a way of getting students involved with their environment, they can see a practical and realistic result of their projects and how these projects can improve the areas where they live. Students not only have the role of receivers, they are generators of knowledge.

Description

The objectives of the project are:

- To develop the enterprising spirit, talent and skills of students.
- To spread a wide and inclusive point of view of entrepreneurship.
- To raise awareness of the importance of active methods for enterprising skills.
- To support teachers/trainers in new ways of research about educational innovation.
- To discover and to develop enterprising skills, leadership, teamwork...
- To promote an active participation of students in their social environment.
- To improve the work in networks of all stakeholders of educational community.

To reinforce enterprising skills of students, the method is developed through a process with two stages:

1. Motivational. In this stage the focus will be on personal and group self-knowledge and the environment of students. The objective is that students can discover their interest and improve their creativity through dynamics and practical workshops.
2. Development of a project. With this project enterprising skills are promoted and the students start up projects addressed to improve their environment.
